Guarding Settlers on Outposts of the North

How Railway Red Cross Hospitals and Hospital Car on the Canadian National System Watch Over Welfare of Pioneer Families.

By Anne Anderson Perry, in C.N.R. Magazine.

Not so very long ago people were wont to talk much and think more about "soulless corporation," and to complain bitterly that "big business" knew little and cared less for the health, welfare and happiness of their employees. But times have changed. Today the bigger the business the more certain one is to find its executives taking the deepest interest and the most practical participation in everything touching the lives of the people they employ. For corporations and big interests alike have found by experience that their own success is indissolubly bound up with the well-being of not only their own working staffs, but with that of the general community in which they live. So that, today, one can see many such evidences of a growth in humanitarianism, in social welfare co-operative activities, and in ameliorating experiments which take sympathy and imagination, as well as money to initiate and to operate.

An outstanding example of just such co-operation may be seen in the generous support given by the Canadian National Railways to the Red Cross Outposts, in Northern Ontario, whose they have expended many dollars in buildings, or their upkeep, and have lent substantial assistance in many other ways to these brave little hospitals which sell safety to pioneers on the ever-extending frontiers.

One of these ways is the provision of a "Hospital on Wheels," which is serving in Thunder Bay District among scattered settlements, but which was originally a Canadian National coach fitted up to act as an emergency outpost at Hudson, during the gold rush into the Red Lake Mining country. So immensely useful was this glorified coach found for its work among in-trekking adventurers and settlers by the Red Cross officials, that, at their request, it was made a permanent donation by the National System as a travelling outpost, to go wherever most needed in New Ontario pioneer sections. For Canada is still essentially a pioneering country with many romantic—yes, and often, tragic—contrasts in the living conditions of the people. Uncleared prairies, or unbroken forests, exist within a few hundred miles of great cities and well-established farming communities in which may be found all the amenities of civilization. In these "wilds" are few of them. For while it is true that the days of the earliest pioneers, who often existed with little benefit of clergy, doctor, or school, are over, it is nevertheless no unusual thing to find in the hinterlands whole families who have been born and who have lived most of their lives 50 or 100 miles from physician, or hospital, or nurse. As these are among the most courageous and enterprising of citizens—the very heralds of existing civilization—it has been long felt that such penalizing of the pioneer was in the interest of neither the individual nor the state. Hence governments in Canada, if from the point of view of health alone, have long since built many formidable problems. Districts unorganized into municipalities exist in practically every province, in some cases, indeed, covering immense tracts of land inhabited by widely scattered settlers whose isolation has spelled danger to themselves and families, as well as heavy responsibility to the state. For whether such communities exist in the remote lumbering sections of the Maritimes, in British Columbia, or Northern Ontario; in the mining and railroading fastness of the great North and West, or in the Peace River country, these pioneering folk—especially the little children—present a problem of the first magnitude.

It was for just such people, living in remote settlements, that the Canadian Red Cross, after the war, when its purse was full, brought into being the Outpost Hospital, a unique institution unknown before in any country, but which has became a model followed by many other lands, where similar conditions have revealed similar needs.

The Outpost is not a standardized affair. It may be just a tiny cottage in charge of one or two intrepid nurses situated, as at Pauce Coupe, on the very fringes of the further frontiers, in Alberta, where with its back to the wall of wilderness it fronts a territory hundreds of square miles in extent with a scattered population of a thousand settlers whose needs it must serve; or it may be little but at Carragana, in Saskatchewan, where the first nurse in charge ministered to an immense district of miles away from the nearest doctor performing miracles of helpfulness emergencies as have the Red Cross soldiers at the hardly less isolated Fisher Branch and Horseton Outposts, in Manitoba; or it may be a 2 bed hospital, as at New Liskeard, in the midst of a rapidly growing agricultural and industrial centre in Northern Ontario; or again a two seven bed Canadian Northern Outpost built or assisted by the National System, at Nakina, Hornepayne, Ste. Lake, or Redditt.

But wherever it is, the Outpost as as a background of protection for community, a hospital when hospitalis needed, but also a health centre from which the nurses in charge ra ate instruction and home aid.

During the past year 15,202 m women and children were treated or through the outposts, which nu number 44 in Alberta, Saskatchew Ontario, Manitoba and New Bru wick. The death rate was less st two per cent., a fact all the more s prising when it is understood th many of the 82 nurses serving in Outposts frequently carry on with the aid of physicians. There were 259 births of brand new Canadians, the Outposts, themselves, and in which were attended by Outpo nurses in the homes of settlers, Ot tors being available in only 50 of t latter group. In all, 1,557 operatio of which 302 were major in charact were performed by surgeons at o posts and a total of nearly 10,000 o patients and 4,367 in-patients h their medical and surgical needs m by these institutions. In their "spar time, nurses of Outposts in New Ontario visit homes or schools to insp the children. Last year no less th 3,864 children were so inspected 176 schools, where 112 health ta were given to mothers of families a to the children themselves.

The policy followed by the Soci In establishing Outposts has been go only where asked to go and aft a careful survey has been made of t locality, its inhabitants, the needs a financial possibilities. If it be d cided that an Outpost hospital is ba ly needed and the community in q able to pay for the initial expense building or equipping, outside orga izations such as the railways, or wh fare funds are approached and the necessary support is usually forthcoming. By adopting this policy and then handing over the actual operation and management, the Red Cross is able to conserve its resources for meeting deficits and expansion.

So when the Canadian National Railways were approached and asked in 1925 to co-operate with the erection of hospitals at Nakina and Hornepayne, divisional points on their transcontinental road, where hundreds of families had followed the steel and had made new homes, the management most generously co-operated by building two seven-bed outposts to meet the well-understood needs of these districts. Since that time the railways have done much to meet the upkeep for both institutions. Through the admirable co-operation of the divisional doctor, of the railways, with the nurse-in-charge at Nakina Outpost, much constructive and preventive educational work has been made possible and a local Red Cross branch, working enthusiastically has succeeded in raising very substantial sums of money toward upkeep expenses. There are now two nurses and two domestics, fours years of establishment have amply justified the confidence placed in hospital procedure. The local Red Cross Committee, at Hornepayne, in conquest of enthusiastic citizens many of whom are railway officials, and through unexampled efforts they have raised enough money to pay for the entire equipment of this Outpost, which also serves as a health centre. The nurses examine the school children once a year, pay home visits to the settlers' wives and keep an expert eye on general health conditions.

At Rainy River there is a seven bed Outpost for which, in 1925, the Women's Institute undertook to provide a building and purchased a beautiful home for this purpose. This was equipped and is operated by the Red Cross but the Canadian National Railways give annually a substantial contribution toward its upkeep, as it is placed at a divisional point on the line. The Women's Institute and paying off the entire debt on the Outpost building and equipment, finally repaying the costs of equipment, so that this too, will eventually become a donation to hospital.

In the early part of 1927, a request was received that an Outpost be established at Redditt by the Red Cross and as this is another railway divisional point, the Canadian National was approached. It is in Western Region, for some assistance. The railways promptly offered the sum of $1,500 toward the expense of converting an old schoolhouse into a hospital, and today this Outpost is in beneficent operation, with three—bed accommodations and the necessary equipment in the building which was donated by the town. In all of the Northern Ontario Outposts, as well as in those of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta where temperatures in the winter fall far below zero, and heavy snow complicates transportation problems, emergencies arise which are a severe test of the efficient women in charge

TWO ARE CONVICTED OF BEATING FATHER

Orillia, March 23rd.—Regret that the Criminal Code does not permit the use of the lash when a son is convicted of beating his father were the sentiments expressed by Magistrate McLaughrin in Police Court yesterday after he had heard the evidence against Howell, 25 years old, and his brother Elmer, 20 years old, both of whom were charged with common assault by their older brother Walter, and were convicted and sentenced to pay $20 and costs or serve 30 days, and $10 and costs or 30 days, respectively. Frank and Elmer, it was charged had not only beaten their brother, but had also attacked their aged and crippled father when the latter attempted to ... his protection. The quarrel had arisen out of a disagreement over the ownership of a certain grey mare, to which each of the two told claim.

New York, March 23.—Fire which swept along a part of the Hoboken waterfront was brought under control tonight, after beginning since 4 p.m. Saturday, and causing damage estimated at $3,500,000. Cost of Veterans' Relief Will Amount to $250,000,000.

FIRST PAYMENT UNDER BILL WILL BE $1,000,000.

Ottawa, March 21st. — Legislation providing up to $40 a month for men who are entitled to war pensions but who, because of less tangible results of the war, are today unemployed and unemployable . . . gone through its first and second readings in the House. If the bill emerges from the committee stage substantially in its present form :

1. The cost will probably approximately a million dollars in the first year it operates. It is to come into effect September 1, 1930.

2. This sum will increase annually until a peak is reached about the year 1950, when it will be costing Canada some ten million dollars a year.

3. When the last payment has been made, cost in the neighborhood of $250,000,000.

The legislation, known officially as the War Veterans Allowance Act, meets point for point the recommendations the Canadian Legion made during its session here in November. In two or three respects it surpasses those recommendations

Get Living Allowance.

Recommendation 1 was : "That to married men with dependents there be made a living allowance."

The bill provides $20 a month be paid to the man, and an additional $20 a month if he be married and his wife living with him.

Recommendation 2 : "That for unmarried men, provision be made for their care and maintenance."

The bill provides up to $20 a month for this purpose.

Recommendation 3 : "That such benefits be available only to men who by reason of age or infirmity, whether or not pre-pensionable, are in necessitous circumstances and are unemployed in any available labor market."

Wide in its Scope.

This is the limiting clause of the Legion's recommendation.

Recommendation 4 : "That such benefits be restricted to men who have served in an actual theatre war."

The bill goes a step further than this by admitting to allowance privileges men who incurred wound or disease while on service in England or Canada and are now in receipt of a small pension.

In other words if a man were getting ten dollars a month because of disability incurred in service here or in England, and was now unemployable, he would be entitled to another $20 a month under the new legislation, depending on whether he had a wife to support.

Recommendation 5 : "That all regulations be so framed as to prevent benefits conferred being used in any way to become indolence."

May Deduct Income

This is also a limiting clause, and the wording of the bill covers it by "unemployable" before he is entitled to the benefits of the legislation. Also, when he is in receipt of some income, that is deducted, if it be more than $125 a year, from the amount to which he is entitled.

Farm Home Ransacked

Forcing their way into the home of John S. Drinkwalter, Deputy Reeve of Orillia township, vandals commenced to make themselves comfortable during the absence of the family, who had closed the century-old homestead for the winter months. The presence of the intruders was not suspected until one of the members of the family paid a chance visit in preparation for opening the home for the summer.

Just how long intruders had been in the habit of going there is hard to tell, but they had been making the home their "hangout" for some time. Everything in the elderly old residence had been ransacked and turned inside out. Beds had been slept in, furniture pushed about, papers littered about the floors, cigar and cigarette butts and even an empty liquor bottle were found lying in one room. The local and Provincial Police are investigating the matter.

SILENCE IS INCOMPATIBLE

The attitude of the Premier of Ontario and the Minister of Health and Labor regarding the suggestion of a deliberate election bribe with public money made by the Leader of the Opposition in the House last week will not satisfy public opinion. Referring to the disclosure the Globe of Monday says:

"In an Administration which placed its reputation and political integrity in the position these attributes should rightfully enjoy—to an Administration concerned with a straightforward and clean record—such a direct and damning charge would have brought forth an immediate and an indignant challenge. The Minister impugned would have been on his feet in a moment, demanding the fullest investigation. Or, failing such action on his part, the Prime Minister, directly responsible for the honor and the integrity of his Administration, would have taken steps himself to clear and clean the escutcheon of his Government from the corroding stain that decency regards with disdain and digust.

So far—and a whole week has gone by—Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson have remained silent. There has been from neither of them one word of denial or explanation. The Sinclair charge—direct and definite—arraigning the political honesty and integrity and the ordinary everyday clean conduct of the Ferguson Administration stands unchallenged and unrefuted.

Is it a "little affair" with the Premier and Minister? Is it a "mere incident" in their mode of electioneering? Is Ontario to breed another era of Minnie M.'s and political disgrace before her people determine to clean house? This sort of thing—tolerated and condoned—soon develops public contempt and, fortunately, public determination, no matter how big the majority, to get rid of those whose eagerness for office has dulled and destroyed their sense of the moral obligations of leaders in political life.

Since the above was put in type Premier Ferguson has said in the House that the action of the Minister of Health in penning postscript was "not only regrettable but inexcusable." Enough said.

ELECTION BRIBERY

Having still in mind the appeal of the Government's candidate in North York for the support of prospective old-age pensioners, the public will be inclined to believe, unless Mr. Sinclair's charge is cleared up, that the Administration is making a political adjunct of its social legislation—that these laws supposed to be based on sympathetic consideration of the needy are in reality a vast bribery mechanism devised for election purposes. Powerful Governments have crashed in days gone by because they had too great confidence in their might. After all, the voters can distinguish between might and right—and will.

A letter sent by a Minister to a political agent may be regarded as an isolated incident which will speedily pass into oblivion. So may a letter sent out by a candidate implying that pensioners will fare better at the hands of his party than otherwise. So may organization effort to prevent by threats an independent candidate from contesting an election. So may vast expenditures in Northern Ontario for which proper accounting is said to be lacking. So may the participation of Magistrates in a political campaign. But, isolated as each may be, the accumulation will make a damning chapter unless explained in the judicial and convincing manner the electors expect their trustees in Parliament to follow—Toronto Globe.

Comments of Exchanges.

Controlling Liquor Export.

Peterboro Examiner: The amendment to the Export Act introduced by Premier King will if carried —and undoubtedly it will command the support of a majority of the House—give the Federal Government absolute power to control the export of liquor from this country. The amendment strikes a body blow at the rum-running traffic, and, more important from the viewpoint of the Canadian people, it frees Canada of the charge that it has been a willing sharing partner in a conspiracy to vitiate the laws of a neighbor country.

Canadian Wheat for China.

Regina Leader: As a means of helping to relieve famine conditions in China, where 2,000,000 persons are said to be have already died and 6,000,000 are facing starvation, Dr. Alexander Duncan, principal of the Prentice College of Canada, suggests that Canadians and British Government and the Canadian Wheat Pool can help. He would have the post offices of, say, 22,000,000 bushels of his grain now held in the elevators for want of a market abroad, to the two governments mentioned, at a "compromise" price, and these Governments forward the grain to China as a present from the two countries. Many western farmers may be prepared to assist in meeting China's sore plight if a well-based national effort is undertaken, whether by disposing of grain at a "compromise" price or giving of their grain outright.

The Senate committee are sitting four days this week on divorce cases, of which there are 200 applications. Of the ten on the list the first day, five were from Toronto, one from York Tp., and one from Sutton West. Five were issued by men and five by women.

Editorial Notes.

The Minister of Health in the Ontario Cabinet has had to eat "humble pie." Will the member for North York get a taste too?

Practically all modern cars are equipped with door locks and it is good business to use them. There is constantly watching parked cars to pick something up. At ingersoll, one evening recently, small articles as rugs, flashlights and robes were stolen from six parked autos.

The Federal Government has offered to allow the provinces of Ontario and Quebec to develop water power as they see fit on the St. Lawrence so long as they protect navigation rights. This should clear up the situation. The Ontario Government has no excuse now for not developing hydro on the St. Lawrence.

The Government supporters in the Ontario Legislature voted down a proposal to split the gasoline tax and give a share to the municipalities. They should have supported it in all fairness. Between the Prov. Government and the County Council the tax bearer has a burden too heavy to carry. It is time the people said so by their votes.

The High School Literary Society is busy getting material for the annual publication of their magazine entitled "Purple and Gold," which is to be ready shortly after Easter holidays. The Era offers a prize of $5.00 for the best essay on "Newmarket High School and its Influence on Student Life," written by a present student and not to exceed 500 words. A second best will be considered.

Last week Hon. Jas. Murdock, Minister of Labor in the King Government from 1921 to 1925, was appointed to the Senate as successor to the late Sir Edward Kemp. The standing of the parties in the Senate now is as follows: Conservatives 46, Liberals 46, (including Senator Turriff, who is sometimes classed as a Progressive). The Speaker, Hon. Hewitt Bostock, is a Liberal. We should hear something about Senate reform before long.

The total benefits awarded by the Workmen's Compensation Board for 1929 amounted to $4,013,167.78 of which $1,383,524.62 was for medical aid and $4,629,331.16 for compensation to injured workers or their dependants. This figure constituted a record for benefits awarded by the Ontario Board in fifteen years that the Act has been in force in this Province. In those fifteen years the Board has received a total of 878,389 reports of accidents, including 6,773 death cases and the total benefits awarded amount to $85,556,722.56. For every $6 awarded to workmen, $1 goes to the Dr.

With strange inconsistency our laws consider a run-away team of horses a serious menaces on our public highways and are rather severe on those responsible, but they allow the high-speed motor car, over which the unskilled driver has little or no control, to pass unquestioned until an accident occurs. It is true that the motorists driving license may be taken away from him after he has effectively demonstrated his inability to operate his car by running it over someone. Would it not be a commonsense system to require the motor driver to demonstrate his ability to safely operate his car at or near its possible speed, before giving him a license to operate it on the public highways, also to limit his driving license to one particular car. There are few drivers, no matter how familiar and skilful they may be with one make of car, who can similarly operate a car of another make without at least some practice.

It looks like a very extravagant and foolish proposition on the part of the Federal Government to spend millions and millions of dollars in order to control the broadcasting of radio throughout Canada, when private enterprise has already so satisfactorily occupied the field without costing the receivers any expense for service except the Government license fee. The proposition of the Royal Commission looks like a "white elephant" that might become a semi-political machine. The Era endorses the opinion expressed by the Toronto Globe:

"The Government through this Depart of Marine at Ottawa, may make any regulations it deems necessary, and see that such regulations are lived up to by the broadcasters. If there have been features in broadcasting in Canada that were not what they should have been, the Government has the remedy at hand in devising regulations to prevent the recurrence of such features. And to do this one thing there should be no need of the Government investing the people's money in a doubtful and extravagant experiment; nor the employment of a highly paid bureaucracy to run it."

Passing of an Estimable Woman.

The death of Mrs. Ashton Lloyd on Tuesday of last week, came as a shock to her many friends in Aurora. She had been ailing for about ten days but nothing serious was anticipated until the end was near and her demise when indications became alarming, but every effort to revive her was unavailing. She passed away this life on the 18th of March.

The maiden name of deceased was Miss Ella Kathleen Hall, and the late Edward Mahon, born at Aurora 73 years ago and was united in marriage to Mr. Ashton Lloyd over 47 years ago. They have always lived in the Township of Whitchurch. Besides her husband, one son and one daughter survive—Mr. Bruce Lloyd of Port Francis, New Ontario, and Mrs. Arthur C. Bruce of Newmarket. Mrs. George Trivett of Newmarket is a sister of deceased.

Besides her children and four grandchildren Mrs. Lloyd had a very large circle of friends and was especially rich in friendship of young people who always found a warm welcome in her home and a wealth of sympathy in their problems and needs.

"To live in hearts we leave
Is not to die,"

and the beautiful floral tributes indicated the esteem in which she was held.

The funeral service was conducted at the family residence on Friday of last week by Rev. A. E. Marshall of Trinity United Church, assisted by Rev. P. L. Amos of the Christian Church and was largely attended. The pall bearers were Messrs. Walter Hall, Frank Playter, Silas VanEaven, John Poote, John Reid and Wm. Reid. Interment at Newmarket Cemetery.

Among those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. Bruce Lloyd of Port Francis, Ont., Miss Sadie E. Mason of Cleveland, Ohio ; Mr. Levi Watson of Smithville, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd of Thornhill, Mrs. W. F. Trivett of Toronto.

LOVE OF OUTDOORS HELPS TO WIN AWARD

Doris Sheppard at Edmonton Wins All-Canada Essay Prize.

A lover of outdoor life, a keen observer of nature, and a real desire to go camping where she can enjoy nature's wonder to the full.

That's why Miss Doris Sheppard, grade VIII student at the Edmonton Normal School, who is 12 years of age, won a recent all-Canada essay contest sponsored by the Canadian Forestry association. Announcement of her success over children from all parts of the dominion was received this week and little Miss Doris is highly elated.

"I never thought I would win but I'm awfully glad that I did," she explained when asked how she felt at winning the prize. While a prize of $10 is awarded Miss Doris feels that the fact that she had the best essay is honor enough.

Doris Sheppard is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Sheppard of Edmonton South, and granddaughter of Mr. John Sheppard of Newmarket.

The following is copied from the Edmonton Journal :

She never received any special tuition in essay writing or composition, being given only the usual education provided by the public school curriculum.

Besides an ability to write she likes the outdoor life and whenever her parents take her along on a camping trip she is, to quote her father, "just tickled to death."

Two years ago she went with her parents to Banff, the Yoho valley and Lake Louise, where she received a taste of outdoor life on a grand scale.

Last year she was taken to northern Saskatchewan where again she enjoyed outdoor life as seen from a camping viewpoint.

"She likes to come on these trips," Mr. Sheppard explained, "and besides liking outdoor life itself she is interested in history and reads many magazines containing 'outdoor' articles."

In her essay which won the prize, Doris explained the general information gleaned by reading outdoor magazines and the particularly informative pleasure upon animal life in the woods.

She also stressed the importance of fire prevention and explained how forests are the basis of the pulp and paper industry."

Mr. Roy Sheppard, father of little Doris is a graduate of Newmarket High School and became a professional athlete before accepting the position of Principal of Edmonton High School 13 years ago and has now 20 teachers under his supervision.

Our local Townman has much reason to be proud of both his son and granddaughter.

Sydney, Australia, March 26—Two thousand electric lights flashed out simultaneously at 8 p.m. to-day, in response to a button inside send here by Guglielmo Marconi, aboard his yacht Electra, 10,000 miles away.

The electrical contact was made through nine relay stations. Marconi's feat opened a Radio-technical exposition in the Sydney town hall.

Whitchurch Council

HYDRO CONTRACT SIGNED AT VANDORF

Provincial Voters' List Cost More Than Total Printing Contract

Members of Whitchurch Township council were amazed when they were called on to pay $87.75, being one-third of the cost of setting up in type and printing a few copies of the voters' list used for the last provincial election. The total cost of the list in Whitchurch was $262.25 or $50 more than the municipality pays for its entire printing contract which includes 225 copies of the same voters' list published in book form. The Provincial list set in Toronto was ordered by the Election Board in pursuance of the election act, which provides that the municipality shall pay one-third of the cost, and the government two-thirds.

Reeve Pugsley thinks that all is not so much the big cost, as the fact that the rural municipalities have not published annually which is quite as good as a basis for federal or provincial elections which are always revised in any case on the eve of an election. But this law is quite clear on the matter council passed the account unwillingly.

The council met in general session at the township hall last Saturday, Reeve Brennan Kidd presiding, all members being present including Deputy Reeve Wes. Williams, and Councillors Rae, Ratcliff and Evans.

The communication from the municipal Relief Board showed the council liable for $309.75 being half the cost of indigent patients, seven in number, cared for during 1929 at the General Hospital and York County Hospital.

Report was also made to the Vandorf school fair on the request of R. E. White, district representative, said grant being the usual one this year, $75. The application was introduced by Deputy Reeve Williams and councillor Rae.

Petition of councillors Ratcliff and Rae council approved of a subdivision at Musselman's Lake on the 8th concession (south side of lake) and as road for school purposes.

In approving of the subdivision the motion provided that council would assume no liability for roads thereon.

The reeve opened a discussion on advisability of instituting a garbage collection in the village, that it be borne by the local residents affected.

Hydro power is shortly to be introduced at Vandorf, and council signed a contract for a supply of current for the municipal hall.

School Inspector Tydell sent in a communication respecting a theatre at Oak Ridges that it is alleged is not sanitary and not safe for school children.

All accounts for road work must be in the hands of Henry Widdifield, road supt., two days before council meeting for the first service payment at that meeting. Accounts not forwarded in this manner may not be for another meeting in order to do necessary checking of these bills.

Last Tuesday the community was shocked to hear of the death of our esteemed friend, Mrs. Ashton Lloyd. She has lived among us for about thirty years and those of us who knew her had learned to love her for her beautiful spirit of friendliness. She was active in community life around Pine Orchard, and her place will be hard to fill. About a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd moved to Newmarket on Prospect Avenue. After a brief illness her life of activity ceased. As we look back we realize that our sense of appreciation of her life was only a mere shadow as to what it should have been. Our deep sympathy is extended to the community, to the bereaved husband and family.

LONDON BUS DRIVER SOLVES TRAFFIC JAM

Moves Family to Western Canada Farm.

It took twenty-one years for A. W. J. Powell, bus-driver, to weary of the traffic jams in London traffic and break away to the great open spaces. But at least the bus yielded to the traffic and this evening Mr. Powell is on the land somewhere in the prairie.

His sons had a great deal to do with it. Alfred Arthur Powell, who is twenty, came to Canada in 1926 and he joined the country so well that he persuaded a younger brother, William Henry Charles, to join him the following year. Places were found for them in the farm born by the Canadian National Railways. Their experiences convinced the father that it was time to forsake the bus, and arrangements were therefore made by the European Colonization organization of the Canadian National Railways for the family to sail for Canada in March. The Canadian climate will help them decide where to make their future home.

Before leaving London, Powell confessed that he had always had a hankering for a farm.

"I like bus driving first rate, but the traffic jams in London are a bit of a nuisance. The best way, so solve the traffic problem is to move out of it and I'm told there aren't many traffic jams out on the Canadian prairies. I always had in my mind's eye a place of my own in one of the Dominions."

Powell was one of the many London bus-drivers who drove London buses in France during the war and he was one of the 10,000 who left Crystal Palace in 1919 to be received by the King.

1920, while driving his bus in North Woolwich, he saved a boy from drowning, by running from the bus to the water and jumping in. He resumed his place in the driver's seat nonchalantly after the rescue and received his rout in dripping clothes.

Besides his two elder sons, who have been working at Petersboro, Ont., and Clayton Village, Ont., Powell is accompanied by his wife and by another boy of 13, and a daughter, aged 12. Powell has been studying Canadian farming methods by means of the Canadian National Railway's Correspondence course.

Spring is the season of the year, according to the poet, when a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love and baseball, and the old man's fancy turns to hunting a job and starting a garden. Some people move in spring—some for their health and some for financial reasons. And last, but not least, spring is the season of the year when our automobile carefully waits until the wind is in the right direction to blow the smoke away from the new house and then builds a big, smoky fire.

APARTMENT ABLAZE AT OSHAWA

Oshawa, March 21st.—About fifty residents of the King Street Charbrow, three-story apartment block in the business section of the city, were forced to flee from their rooms into the street when fire broke out at 7.15 this evening. Smoke quickly spread throughout the building, an old structure, and considerable alarm was caused the tenants.

Fire Chief Elliott stated that, in his opinion, the blaze was caused by a lighted cigaret butt dropped behind a radiator on the stairway between the second and third floors of the structure. The fire burned through the partition into a bedroom, where the tenant was absent, and when discovered had gained considerable headway in the bedroom. Smoke filled the stairway, and terror-stricken resident fled down the back stairs to the street.

Comments of Exchanges.

Same Everywhere.

Markham Economist : There is general rejoicing over the attitude of the two great parties at Ottawa regarding rum-running to the United States. What a wave of popularity would sweep down them were they to assume the same mutual attitude regarding prohibition in this country.

Scraping the Radial.

Collingwood Bulletin : Who cannot recall the fight put up by Hon. E. C. Drury to save this province from the radial cancer that struck it six or seven years ago? Mr. Drury won and as evidence of the soundness of his judgment that radials in the vicinity of Toronto were doomed to failure there is the scrapping of the Metropolitan with its line from Toronto through to Sutton on Lake Simcoe. Had not the fight been waged to a finish many millions would have been sunk in the scheme.

Indians Have Rights.

Collingwood Bulletin : Prosecution for violation of the game laws has determined the Indians of this section of the province to appeal to Ottawa. The claim is that the treaty entered into fifty years and more ago, gave certain fishing and hunting rights and privileges that have in no way been annulled. If the appeal is successful, new legislation might have to be enacted to bring the law in accordance with the Indian term, "as long as the sun shines, water flows and grass grows."

Education

Toronto Saturday Night : One of the really nice things about education is that it is becoming easier and more satisfying all the time. Also more expensive, but that, of course, is something to which not even the most sensitive taxpayer has ever given a thought. That is the business of the wretched taxpayer, who is thus enabled to take a back seat in the country in patience and long-suffering. All the student has to do is to lap up the bright and shining waters which are laboriously pumped up for him from the well of wisdom and shining every become more bright as declining every day. In fact, "water" seems a bleak and forbidding word to apply to fluids so effervescent and highly flavored as those which are nowadays set before our little guests at the banquet of learning. The thoughtful parent who they are expected to slake their thirst for knowledge are more in the nature of a continuous series of lemonades, very sweet and bubbly and equipped with chemically certified straws, so that the youthful absorbent can absorb the parts he likes. It is all very jolly and exhilarating and quite, quite different from the dismal business which school teachers made of it in the days of our youth. But I notice that earnest observers among whom I hasten ably but hopefully to number myself—are sometimes worried by doubts as to just how much education the lads and lasses are getting out of it all. Probably about as much as we did, when every thing is taken into account—I don't see how they could very well get much less—but then look at the size and cost and complexity of the equipment that is being used on them! It is something like employing a combined harvester to do a job that can just as effectively be done with a scythe.

THE FRIENDLY CHURCH CAMP

On the Southern side of Musselman Lake
Our Friends' Camp showed it was not a fake;
We raised the tents and fixed the beds
Then gratefully rested our weary heads.
Next morning a pillow fight, then a swim,
An attack on breakfast with courage and vim.

Then making the rules we sat around
On bench or chair, or on the ground.
Mr. Williams had said do our share of work
Under the apple tree for ones that shirk.

Mr. Williams's cousin we visited soon
On a grand summer morning, just before noon.

Of homemade icecream we had two dishes each.
Our hurrahs you bet rang on the beach.
We promised we'd go to Bloomington church,
And we did not leave them in the lurch.

Mr. Prosser from Newmarket came
And told us many a home-town game.

After the sermon Mr. Williams told
We were part of the boys he printed in gold;
Two joyful weeks from start to end,
And then with cheers we rounded the bend.
And we have never seen that camping space
Since the truck went on the homeward race.

YORK COUNTY BLOCKS DISPOSAL OF RADIAL

Injunction Restrains City From Dismantling Metropolitan.

Gideon Grant, K.C., special counsel for York County obtained an interim injunction for one week from Mr. Justice Raney in Osgoode Hall restraining the city and the T.T.C. from "removing, selling, disposing of or dismantling the property of the Toronto and York Radial Co., and the Metropolitan Radial Co."

A motion to continue the injunction until trial will be made this Friday and will have the effect of preventing any disposal of the radial until the question of the city's power to cease operating care is decided.

Gardening Service

Special to the Era.

Catalogues

The seed catalogue of to-day is vastly different from that old publication which used to be built for many a joke when the newspapers were short of copy. The modern affair is not only interesting and very attractive with photographs in color, but it is also distinctly authentic. The information is furnished by experts in the commercial seed line and in Government Experimental Institutions. Descriptions can be relied upon and the illustrations are from actual photographs. Successful gardeners never attempt very much in the way of growing flowers or vegetables without supplying themselves with a catalogue. Many of their questions were answered in this and the new varieties are fully explained in the case of flowers, the height, time of blooming, and whether the plant is adapted to shade or full sun, heavy soil or light, and similar conditions are given. New vegetables are not only fully described in the way of cultural requirements, but such a hint is given as to how to prepare them for the table. The season, that is whether the vegetable flowers, be bright, time of blooming, is also specified. With a good seed catalogue one is well- equipped to commence gardening.

Lawns

Before one should think of starting the lawn, the soil should be put in first-class shape. It is a fairly simple matter to make the ground level before the seed is sown, but after that the job is one which requires years of patient work. Make sure that the surface you finish requires years of patient work. Make sure that the surface is level. The easiest way to do this is by rolling well, preferably of course in the fall. Clear out everything in the way of stones, sticks and roots and rake level. Now, let the soil get a chance to settle; the rains will do this and a late frost will help. Rake level again and repeat two or three times. This may take a week or two but it is well worth while. In fact, laziness one is in a great hurry it is best to put the space set aside for lawn in some cultivated crop like potatoes for a season in order to have the earth settle properly. When everything is ready, select the very best seed obtainable. Sometimes, the beginner is tempted to purchase the low-priced article but he will be disappointed in the end. Such lawn gets ragged and coarse after the first year. Buy seed from reputable merchants is recommended to sow one pound of seed is needed for every 200 sq. ft. Seed during the evening or on a quiet day, when there is little wind, thoroughly, and cut with a very sharp mower when the grass is a few inches high.

Easily Grown Annuals

Even the busy person who cannot afford to potter too much around the flower garden can have a brilliant display of bloom with very little trouble. In choosing his flowers, he must make sure that they require little care, that they bloom freely, and last for a long time. They must not be too fussy in the matter of watering because the busy person has no time to spend in nursing them along during the hot weather. With these points in mind, one cannot go wrong in choosing all or some of the following: snapdragon, marigolds, poppies, annual Larkspur, nasturtiums, scabiosa, zinnias, salpiglossis. These are all medium to large-sized plants, with the exception of the nasturtium which can be secured either as ordinary or trailing plants. For a hot, sunny and sandy spot, portulaca will make an excellent flower and will thrive even when neglected. It is a low, spreading sort of plant with a bright flower. Mignonette should possibly be added for fragrance sake. Provided the flowers are kept removed and the weeds kept down early in the season, all these flowers should bloom from the first of July until Autumn, and with the exception of the poppy and in clumps or bed, depending on color and size.

Rose Requirements.

Roses must have good drainage and it is best to give some protection in the form of fences, shrubbery or buildings on the north side. They should, however, be planted two or three feet apart, and hybrid tea two. The roots should be spread out when planting and the earth firmed well about the stocks. The point at which the roses are budded union of stock and scion) should be buried to inches below the surface of the soil.

GUARDING SETTLERS ON OUTPOSTS

of these hospitals. As when a young man was brought to the Outpost, at Fisher Branch, in Manitoba, he weighed below weather, suffering from acute appendicitis and the nurse had to decide whether to let him die at the Outpost or set him at once to the Winnipeg hospital and a surgeon a hundred miles to the south. With the assistance of a Canadian National employee, on a line where there could be no regular train for three days, Nurse Litton wrapped the patient in blankets and surrounded him with hot water bottles and stones, on a car "jigger" which she and the section hand operated, against ——— of difficulty all the way to the city, where they arrived after a day and night journey in time to save the fast ebbing life.

Or, again, a nurse at one of these outposts records :—

"January 10th. Thirteen miles by Jigger, two miles by team to sees baby badly scalded by boiling water. Did all I could to help and instructed mother. Returned three days later in bad weather and was glad to find improvement."

"January 23rd—Hurry up call—ten miles by Jigger, three by team to see man shot accidentally, bullet entering right leg above knee and coming out on inner side of thigh. Dust, dirt and tobacco had been carried into wound. But got it all cleaned and had the man sent to the hospital, where I can take care of him."

Other records tell of a man patient suffering with pneumonia brought in sleighs, surrounded by heated chains, a five-day journey to an Outpost where he made a good recovery; of babies born en route to the hospital, in Jolting wagons, but mothers and children making the grade safely afterwards in the shelter of bright.

The Outpost hospital is its own best advocate wherever it exists and the one on wheels, which is supplied by the Canadian National Railways is the Thunder Bay District is no exception to the rule; while it excites the curiosity and interest of all who see it in the same way as does the equally beneficent "school on wheels" initiated and operated by the Dept. of Education in New Ontario.

The travelling hospital is in charge of one public health nurse and one housekeeper. The car is comfortably fitted at one end with two hospital beds for adults.

In generously assisting in so manifestly constructive a national task, Canadian National Railways are giving just that service which might be expected of a great public utility decirous of forwarding by every possible means, safe settlement, development of homes, the making of villages, towns and cities, the welfare of our Canadian pioneering people.

Oak Ridges

The Late Mrs. W. H. Legge

The village and community were saddened on Sunday morning, March 9th by the news of the death of Mrs. W. H. Legge. Although deceased had suffered from ill health for a long time, the end came suddenly due to heart failure. Mrs. Legge, who was in her 64th year, was born on Yonge St. near Bond Lake, the younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Asa Curtis. She had lived in the vicinity all her life and was widely known and highly respected by a large circle of friends. She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, where she had been an organist for many years; also a life member of the W. A. of the Anglican Church and a member of the William Lyon McKenzie King Chapter I.O.D.E., of Toronto.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Percy C. Hill, of Richmond Hill, also two brothers and one sister.

The funeral took place from her late residence, "Hillcrest," Jefferson, on Tuesday, March 11th and was conducted by Rev. P. H. Sanne, assisted by Rev. G. S. Despard, rector of St. Lukes Church, Toronto. Many beautiful floral offerings paid silent tribute to the revered memory of the noble life which had closed. Interment took place at St. John's Cemetery, Oak Ridges.

A very successful dance was held at the Summit Hotel, Oak Ridges on Monday evening, March 10th in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Thompson who were recently married. Numerous friends from Temperanceville attended. A lunch was provided by the ladies. After lunch an address was read by Mr. Elford on behalf of the people of Oak Ridges, followed by presentation of a toilet set and lamp. Immediately after the first presentation an address was read by Mr. Leonard Harmen on behalf of the people of Temperanceville, who presented the Bride and Groom with a beautiful mantle clock. The dance lasted until 3 a.m. and everybody left tired, but happy in thought that they had a good time. Snider's Orchestra supplied the music.

FEWER PHONE TROUBLES

Huge sums of money are spent annually by the Bell Telephone Company to maintain the equipment at the highest standard, thereby enhancing the value of telephone service. Last year, says the Company's annual report, there was a further reduction of 12 per cent. in the number of troubles per telephone. The reduction of troubles has been 43 per cent. since 1925, demonstrating the effectiveness of the Company's policy of preventive maintenance.

A TORRENT OF POWER AND SPEED

72 MILES AN HOUR

48 IN SECOND GEAR

65 HORSEPOWER

RICH BROADCLOTH UPHOLSTERY

INTERNAL 4-WHEEL BRAKES

HYDRAULIC SHOCK ABSORBERS

In creating the entirely new Willys Six, Willys-Overland brings a motor car of luxury and refinement, coupled with amazing power and speed, to the low-priced class.

Such a combination of features as the 65 horsepower motor, (72 miles an hour, 48 in second) rich upholstery fabrics, beautiful interior appointments and low-swung graceful bodies, finds no parallel except in cars of much higher price.

But these features by no means complete the Willys Six picture. Consummate driving ease and smoothness have been attained by rubber-insulating the engine against vibration. New hydraulic shock absorbers smooth out the ruttiest roads. Perfect control and relaxation are enjoyed at highest speeds. Gasoline and oil consumption are remarkably low.

Know at first hand this highest advancement in the low-cost field. See and drive the Willys Six. Your nearest Willys-Overland dealer will gladly arrange a demonstration.

Following the appeal of the beautiful bright sunlight, it was no surprise to see the large congregation that assembled for worship last Sunday morning. The preacher, Rev. J. H. Wells of Islington, in keeping with the Lenten season, turned the thoughts of his hearers to the tragedy of the Cross, and in a benign and assiduous discourse focused undivided attention upon the love of Jesus in giving himself to redeem the world from sin, and the surrender of self in the example of St. Paul, "to the cross of Christ I glory." The choir sang the anthem "What ar These?"

Boy Leader Honored.

On Saturday night Taylor Statten, much beloved leader of boys, whose influence has affected lives scattered around the globe, was the guest of honor at a Monday night at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, marking the close of his 25th year in boys' work, and at which he revealed his dream for the future.

More than 600 friends were present, members of the National Boys' Work Board, the Rotary Club, Camp Coutchiching, Camp Ahmek, Pemborke Lodge and the Y.M.C.A., all organizations with which Mr. Statten has been connected during the last quarter century.

Four volumes bound in tooled leather, containing more than 600 letters from men in all parts of the world whose lives had been influenced by Taylor Statten, were presented to the leader by Norman Sommerville, K.C.

"Taylor Statten has broken down the old dogmas of orthodox methods practiced by the churches in boys' work," Mr. Sommerville said. "He has given the boys a new vision of life, and he leads them toward it."

Mr. Statten was also presented with a life-size portrait of himself in camp clothes, painted by J. E. Sampson.

In acknowledging the complimentary banquet as well as the gifts, Mr. Statten said : "We are living in an age of science. Our boys are governed by scientific factors, and boys' work today must be approached in a scientific attitude.

"I would like to see a clinic established in Toronto, and to every other large city of the dominion, where there would be psychologists and psychiatrists to advise not only the abnormal and subnormal boys, but every normal boy.

"A clinic of this kind, giving vocational guidance, would do away with a great many, if not all, of our social maladjustments and the problem of the boy who is mechanically sound but not academically inclined."

Similar work is now being done by Mr. Statten as chief of the department of character development at Pickering College, Newmarket.

Taylor Statten is recognized as a leading camp director and his camp as a model, not only in Canada but throughout the United States.

Sister—"Really Gerald, you must ask Miss Prestley for a dance."

Ideal English Village.

Saffron Walden is a good place to use as a centre for excursions through the old villages of Essex that lie completely off the beaten track. Ugley Green is one of these tiny places. It is singularly misnamed, for here, by way of paradox, more charming cottages can be seen than anywhere else. Instead of standing close together on one long street, they are scattered along narrow lanes, hidden behind trees and hedges. With flowering shrubs in bloom, Ugley Green fulfils the fondest dreams of an ideal English village. There are many other charming spots with old houses and older churches.

The Lost City of Jamaica

In the English island of Jamaica, Kingston is the capital and chief city. But this was not always so. Port Royal was the only city of importance during the island's early history, and is still fascinatingly interesting. Hither came Spanish conquistadores, conquering English sea-dogs, pirates and buccaneers who brought such vast treasure that Port Royal was one of the richest cities in the world. Two earthquakes—one in 1692, another in 1907—put an end to all this by shaking many of the buildings into the sea. Now the surface of the bay is smooth, houses may be seen beneath the water—a lost city like the fabled Atlantis.

Big Buddha

All of us are familiar with pictures of the mammoth figure of Buddha in Japan. It may be seen at Kamakura, a pleasant summer resort near Yokohama, which is also famous for its beaches and beautiful mountain top views. The Daibutsu, or Big Buddha, is the largest bronze casting in existence, and sits in state upon a lotus flower with a calm and peaceful expression his eyes of pure gold seem to be absorbed in meditation. On his head are 830 curls each nine inches high, representing the snails which, according to legend, crawled over his head to shelter its bald surface from the sun's rays.

The Heart of Vienna

In Vienna there is one cafe where it is delightful to spend an hour or two sitting and watching the people who gather there. This is the Cafe Landtmann on the Ringstrasse. Situated in the heart of Vienna, it is a meeting place for authors, playwrights, journalists, racing and sporting people, and a sprinkling of radicals associated with revolutionary groups in the Balkans. Before the war the Cafe Landtmann was a rendezvous of fashion and the military in gorgeous uniforms. There is no other one similar place in any city where such a varied and interesting crowd of people may be seen.

Why Rocamadour?

Why do people love to go to Rocamadour? Because the road is to run through the greenest rolling hills of central France, past ruined castles, past crumbling stone farmhouses, past bands of roving gipsies. Suddenly the village appears far across the valley, and a lofty castle, the one street of Rocamadour is narrow and cobbled.

Color, Flowers, Bells

Sicily is a land of color,—of flowers, and of ringing bells. The flower venders carry their wares in one great bouquet on a long pole high above the ground. In spring they appear in ballalions bearing aloft enormous cushions of orange blossoms—enough to make the streets perpetually festal. But nothing else gives so much color and life to an out-of-door life as the painted carts. Every inch of the surface is decorated with shades and hues that you never saw before, and all the designs and scenes are different. The harness of the pony or donkey, too, is gay, and the sound of their bells fills the streets.

A Printer's Shrine

It is not without reason that the visitor to Antwerp in Belgium is asked so often if he has yet seen the house of Christopher Plantin. The worthy citizen was a French printer of the sixteenth century and made Antwerp his home and printshop. In the angle of the Oude en Nieuwstad is the house found around its quaint little courtyard. It has a unique collection of old furniture and paintings by Rubens and Van Dyck. The old printing office, the proprietor's office and the sales-room are preserved complete, and the house itself is a fine Renaissance example of the better burgher type. Priceless treasures of engraving and printing can be seen, and the place has become a favorite shrine for American newspaper men.

LENTEN SALADS

Pineapple Salad.
(serves 4)

4 slices pineapple
3 large oranges
1 head lettuce
4 Maraschino cherries
4 green pepper

Place slice of pineapple on bed of lettuce. Lay sections of orange on pineapple slice, to form a domed appearance. Cut a rosette of cherry and place on top of fruit sections. Recipe is made by cutting the cherry in 6 or eight sections leaving it joined at the tip. Two diamond shaped pieces of green pepper are placed on each side of the salad, near the cherry. Serve with French dressing.

Princess Salad
(Serves 6)

2 head lettuce
1 can green asparagus tips
2 fresh tomatoes
2 large oranges

Pimento and mayonaise

Place one slice of tomato on each salad plate on which has been arranged a bed of lettuce. Top off with mayonaise and a strip of pimento. Arrange 4 sections of orange around the tomato.

Poinsettia Salad

Peel orange and separate into sections free from membrane. Place Philadelphia cream cheese in the centre of a bed of lettuce. Arrange 5 or 6 orange sections around the cheese to resemble the petals of the poinsettia, putting thin slices of pimento on top of each section. The strips of pimento may be curved to represent a cane and will make a more effective decoration. Serve with mayonaise in the centre with pieces of green pepper cut in diamond shape.

1 teaspoon vanilla

Crush junket tablet and dissolve in cold water. Put sugar in a small saucepan and heat, stirring constantly, until melted and golden brown. Add water and dissolve sugar in it. Add milk to carmel syrup and warm to lukewarm—not hot. Remove from stove. Add dissolved tablet and vanilla and turn at once into individual dessert glasses. Let stand in a warm room until firm (about 10 minutes); then chill before serving. Add a topping of marshmallows cut in pieces and mixed with whipped cream.

Scalloped Potatoes

Into a well-buttered baking dish put a layer of thinly sliced potatoes, salt, pepper and a thin scatterings of finely cut cheese and one-half the thin white sauce (1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter to 1 cup milk). Repeat and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven about an hour, until the white sauce bubbles through and the potatoes are well done and brown on top. If cheese is committed, add small pieces of butter to each layer of potatoes. In order to save time of making cream sauce, a small quantity of dry flour can be sprinkled over layers of potato, and milk added to cover the potatoes.

Grillis, March 20.—While carrying firewood to his fishing hut located on the edge of Lake Couchiching, Russell Boyd, local fisherman, saw the hut suddenly swirled about by the raging blizzard and carried several miles down the lake. He followed for a distance, but the 40-mile gale forcing the house before it outdistanced him. Tomorrow he will tour the lake in a car in an effort to retrieve his lost belongings.

Soaks Right In And Limbers Up
Stiff Joints

Nowadays people don't have to be tormented with inflamed, swollen, creaky joints.

If you want your bad aching joints to limber up and work with smoothness and sensible thing to do is to get something that is made for just that purpose.

It's up to you—just ask for a tube of Joint-Ease and give your troublesome joint a good rubbing to-night.

When you rub this magical yet scientific emollient on your sore, stiff joint it has the same effect as poor of penetration—it soaks right in and away it goes thru skin and flesh right down to the ligaments and tendons of the joint—right where the trouble starts.

Out comes the inflamation and down goes the swelling—a hard job is well and swiftly done—your joint is limber again—it works smoothly—you are thankful.

Joint-Ease is a product of Canada and every good drug store in the Dominion sells lots of it. Make a note of this also—for lumbago and lame aching back one good rubbing is usually enough—60 cents for a generous tube and it's guaranteed—you must get results or money back.

King City

Too late for last week.

On Monday night, March 17th, an Irish supper was served in the Sunday School Room, which was very gaily decorated for the occasion with green and white streamers. The matrons at each table with assistant helpers wore green caps and aprons, and the tables had shamrock centres. There was also an Irish menu. A very splendid program followed with the following artists taking part; Mr. Nichols, baritone; Mr. J. C. Dew, tenor; Ben Silverman, accordionist; Miss Lillian Leeye, pianist; Misses Grace Stone and Eleanor Cummings, elocutionist; Miss Verna Carson, accompanist.

The World's Day of Prayer was observed on March 7th, when the ladies of the Baptist, Methodist, Anglican, and United Churches held a United Prayer Service in the United Church at 3 o'clock. About 65 were present.

The Young People's Society was in charge of the third vice-president, Miss Eleanor Cummings, last Tuesday night. Mr. W. J. McAllister gave a splendid talk on "Citizenship". After the meeting there was a Big Contest on the Sunday school lessons of this quarter. Florence Pollett and Ruth Campbell were appointed captains. Ruth Campbell's group won the most points.

The Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Charles Archibald last Thursday, March 13th, with an attendance of 40. After a very interesting program luncheon was served and a social hour spent.

MORE CALLS COMPLETED

During the past year, public support of the Bell Telphone Company's effort to increase the percentage of local calls completed resulted, according to the Company's annual statement, in over 80,000 more exchange calls being completed daily than in 1928, and this despite a greater use of the telephone. In long distance calls completed, the 1929 increase was 11 per cent. higher than for the previous year.

NEW PLANET DISCOVERY IS TRIBUTE TO LOWELL

Astronomer in 1915 Predicted Addition to Solar System.

Within the last few days our conception of the size of our solar system have been greatly changed. On March 12 the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, announced the discovery of a new planet which is revolving about the sun outside the orbit of Neptune. The planet, named Neptune has been the outermost known planet but now the text books of astronomy will have to be changed. Instead of eight major planets, we have nine.

The new planet is farther from Neptune than Neptune is from Saturn.

This discovery, made through photography, for mathematical deduction based on the law of gravitation.

Concerning the planet itself, nothing is yet known with great accuracy. It does not even have a name other than the letter "X" by which it was always designated by Professor Lowell. Its average distance from the sun is about 43 times the earth's or in round numbers, 4 billion miles. It probably takes 280 years to cover its immense circuit once, which means it moves among the stars just about one degree every year.

Its mass is seven times that of the earth. The planet turned out to be much fainter than expected, which was a reason for the long delay in its discovery.

LIBERAL YOUTH BODY HAS AUSPICIOUS BIRTH

Ottawa, March 20.—A national youth was launched to-night under the sponsorship of the elder statesman of the Liberal Party but under the aegis of youthful politicians whose years dated within the twentieth century. It is to be known as the Twentieth Century Liberal Association of Canada.

Famous names already recorded in the list of charter members of the executive of the two branches of the organization. Particularly did the daughters of the statesmen glory in the number of justice, as chairman. The vice-chairman is Miss Rosanna Stewart, daughter of Mr. Mackenzie the interior, and on the committee are included Miss Margart Heenan, Miss Mary Fowler, Miss Mary Rowell of Toronto, and Miss Olive Wilson, daughter of Senator Wilson.

Every city in the dominion was represented. The occasion was a banquet tendered to the prime minister and the evening function was organized by the young people themselves.

BRITAIN SNOW COVERED

Motor Cars Stalled and Sheep Buried in Drifts.

London, Eng., Mar. 20.—The British Isles were digging out from one of the heaviest snowfalls in years today.

The storm was most severe in Kent, where a blanket 12 inches deep fell in a few hours. South Wales, travelers said, had the appearance of a polar waste, with motorists stranded along blocked roads, and farmers experiencing difficulty rescuing sheep buried in drifts.

Air services to the continent were abandoned. Ships groping to harbors were assisted by fog sirens and guns fired from the Admiralty Pier at Dover.

Schools were closed yesterday in many sections of the country, the students being unable to attend. Temperatures in many places sank to the lowest level of the winter, with thawing officially due to-morrow, still seemingly quite far behind.

Snow in Dublin impeded traffic.

Long Distance now gives you quicker and better communication with the next town, or across the continent. And it costs less than ever before.

ELM GROVE

The snow fall which came on Monday and Tuesday was quite a surprise after our spring weather but this is what the fall wheat and clover needs.

Some cases of bad colds or influenza in many homes.

The geese which started laying so early will do well not to wait too long for the warmer weather to come to finish their layings. Now that the hens' eggs are so cheap we need not wait till Easter time for an egg treat.

The Belhaven correspondent appeared not to have too much to say about the play "Always in Trouble", in the Community Hall. But by a mistake the curtain was drawn before all did their part excellently and the audience as a whole were delighted. They had lots of sympathy for the cross man, for he certainly was in trouble, but changed his mind from not wanting to pay an honest debt, to making misery a gift of $1000. Misery had certainly done his part well. No one objected to him being recompensed. Miss Stiles and all others, including those who gave the music, deserve great praise. "It starts with a touch
And ends with a roar,
And when it's all over
"You'll wish for some more.
So don't be grumpy
And don't be glum
And wish, by heck!
You hadn't come.

We'll do our best
To give a good show,
But we need some help
From you, you know.
We laugh, we cry,
Applaud and grin—
And a hoodooed Coon
Can't help but win.

COMMUNICATION

An explanation in justification of the Sutton Horse Brigade's refusal to attend fires in Gwillimbury township.

In 1927 the department attended two fires in Gwillimbury, one at King's on the base line, at which two of the firemen were injured, and a grass fire at the Samaritan, a children's club, on the lake shore.

At a meeting of the Department on Feb. 18th, 1928, a resolution was passed, that the following letter be sent to Gwillimbury and Georgina Councils to come to some arrangement of reconsidering the Sutton Fire Brigade for attendance of fires in their municipalities, also asking Gwillimbury to refund $50.00 for the attendance at the King fire. No reply being received to the clerk's letters, a meeting was called on June 13th, 1929, at which property owners of the two municipalities met the department and the proposition was thoroughly gone into and discussed. A resolution was passed that the brigade would attend fires outside the village limits on being guaranteed fifteen dollars for a false call, or where the service of the fire was not necessary and fifty dollars where the fire had to be fought. The Georgina Council agreed to and accepted these terms.

In view of the fact that the courtesy of a reply to the village clerk's letter was not extended by the Gwillimbury Council, the Sutton Fire Department at their last meeting decided to be taken by them and that the people of Gwillimbury be given this explanation to place the onus on the proper shoulders.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davidson and family in the loss of their farm buildings. The barn was built new and the house remodelled a few years ago, making this a very attractive place. We understand that at the present time Mr. Davidson cannot claim insurance as the place is vacant, but rumor has it that he is writing the insurance company asking them to share his great loss.

Quite a number from here attended the supper in the Community Hall on Thursday evening and report a fine time.

Fashions for the Smart Woman

GRACE OF LINE

It is no wonder that the new fashions have been taken up enthusiastically by women of all ages and sizes. They continue to be marvellously flattering in their slenderizing grace of line. An example of the new line is shown here, featuring a smart circular side flare. The fronts lap in wrap-around style and are closed in the form of long front revers which add further to the slenderizing effect.

COURT DECIDES UPON VALUE IN CHURCHILL LAND CASE

Ottawa, March 24.—The Exchequer Court of Canada in a judgment delivered today, decided that compensation upon the basis of $30 per lot was due to Frank Beech for lands in Port Churchill, Man., expropriated by the Dominion Government for construction of the Hudson Bay Railway terminus and port facilities. Interest from the date of taking in August, 1929, is also granted. In his judgment, Mr. Justice MacLean rules that the Dominion Government was within its rights on expropriating the property. His Lordship observes that prices said to certain parties prior to 1914 were speculative, and "are not a test of the value of the lands at the date of expropriation, 15 years or so afterward."

Horticultural Lecture.

The Newmarket Horticultural Society opened up its season's activities with an illustrated lecture by Mr. H. M. Moore in the Public School, Wednesday evening. Owing to weather conditions the attendance was small but those present were well repaid by the very profitable address.

Mr. Ward Clarkson, President of the Society, in the chair, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Moore, who has been here on several occasions, is a government expert on Horticulture and has recently been made Secretary of the International Peace Garden Project. He began his lecture by giving valuable information on the treatment and preparation of soils, and planting of bulbs, tubers and seed. The soil must have organic matter to promote plant culture. Over 100 beautiful, natural colored slides were shown, illustrating the best and most successfully grown annual and perennial plants and shrubs, and was a treat too good to miss. Also depicted were the results of what the Horticultural Societies are doing in Ontario and in the other provinces. Mr. Moore has travelled 56,000 miles in the last sixteen months and stated there were 80,000 horticulture members in Ontario.

A feature of the address was information he presented on the great International Peace Garden. It was first inspired in the mind of a Canadian and American Team were chosen to take up the thought and began organization. The International Convention of Gardeners was held in the U. S. A. in 1928 was honored by the presence of Mr. Moore, the only Canadian who attended out of the thirty invited. He personally invited them to hold their next convention in Ontario and so they came in large numbers to Toronto last August, where the plans of the Peace Garden were unanimously received. A charter was formed and organization laid out. This Peace Garden is to be a living memorial of the peace years between Canada and the United States, and is to be situated somewhere on the border between the two countries. It will be the world's greatest memorial to peace. Shelter belts now or gradually become a wit drew and the Dominion raise $5,000,000 for this great memorial of Peace. Every citizen of Canada will be asked to give—adults 25c. each and school children 5c. The names of every contributor will be written in a book and kept for all time. Though the sum to be raised seems to be a large amount yet be assured his listeners that the people of Canada would rally and do its share in this worthy project. The Peace Garden will have its influence throughout the world, he went on to say, and related an instance where a Governor had already grasped the significance of the scheme. The campaign to raise funds started in the Dundas last week and a program will be presented over the radio at Easter time over the N.B.C. and associated stations in the interest of the Peace Garden.

After a vote of thanks to the speaker, Mr. Moore answered question and the meeting closed.

Newmarket is going to become a member of the Newmarket Horticulture Society should get in touch with any of the present members.

The late Mrs. Bert Green.

After an extended and painful illness, including five days in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, and 15 weeks in York County Hospital, Newmarket, Mrs. Bert Green departed this life on Tuesday night, deeply regretted by many friends.

Mrs. Green was born in London, England, and spent ten years of her married life in her native city. Eighteen years ago they emigrated to Newmarket and have carried on a successful painting and wall paper business ever since. They were without the blessing of children in their home. She leaves with her surviving husband a beloved memory.

The deceased has been an active member of the Anglican Church and the Ladies' Orange Lodge, and will be greatly missed by her associates.

The funeral service will be held in St. Paul's Church this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. The pall bearers are Messrs. F. Hewson, J. O. Little, J. E. Nesbitt, W. A. Brunton, W. Carruthers and Ed. Hill. Interment in Newmarket Cemetery.

Girl Guides.

Last Sunday the Newmarket Company of Girl Guides in charge of Lieut. Ross in command paraded to Trinity Anglican Church, Aurora. There were 50 guides present, accompanied by the District Commissioner, Mrs. (Rev.) Soanes and Dist. Commissioner, Mrs. (Rev.) Patterson, and local officers. Rev. Stones gave a very helpful message from the text "Be ye also ready."

On Tuesday last a very interesting meeting was held at Newmarket High School when the local company were visited by Mrs. Soanes, District Commissioner, and Miss Izzard, captain of the Aurora Co. The latter officiated at the investiture.

On Wednesday the Newmarket Association entertained the Aurora Co. at the home of Mrs. C. G. Ross in Newmarket. There was a very good attendance. Special object of the meeting was to bid Miss Izzard farewell, to extend to Mrs. Soanes their good wishes on the occasion of her leaving the district, and to welcome Captain Bowman. Games were played and the good wishes in a few well chosen words and a bouquet was presented to Miss Izzard. Captain Bowman. Soanes feeling replied her reciprocate good wishes.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Moore in Holland St., Newmarket, April 25th, when their second daughter, Edith Edna, was united in marriage to Mr. Max Alva Knowles, of Toronto, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Boag, Newmarket.

The bride beautiful Grandfather's Clock, the gift of the bride's mother, chimed the hour of four, the bride entered the living-room on the arm of her father, the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus being played by Mrs. Basil Watters.

The bride looked lovely attired in a floor length green georgette and radium lace with long uneven hemline, and beige picture hat, her bouquet of butter to promise plaid (out-of-the-valley; and was attended by her sister Nora in a dahlia georgette dress with picture hat and picture hat to match, carrying lavender sweet-peas and Columbia roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Austin Brannmar, Newmarket.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Alfred Hall sang very effectively "All Joy Be Thine."

After the reception a dainty repast was served, the dining-room being decorated in a pink and white color scheme at which about fifty guests were seated.

The bridal party left immediately afterwards by a short honeymoon, the bride travelling in an ensemble of independence blue, with hat and bag to match, and Persian seal coat with sunbeam fox collar.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Boag will reside at 7 Dalton Crescent, Toronto.

TEACHER IN CUSTODY AFTER HIS DISMISSAL

Barrie, March 24—J. N. Ferguson, middle-aged teacher who was barred from Anten Mills School last Tuesday, when trustees refused to open the door to the door, was arrested tonight by Provincial police on a charge of being insane and dangerous to be at large. He is held here pending a hearing before the Magistrate. The warrant was issued on complaint of trustees of the section.

Ferguson, it is alleged, had been acting queerly for several weeks. Eventually the 22 pupils on the roll were withdrawn from attending until officials pushed the door. Trustees engaged a new teacher, J. Ed. Cahon of Lonsdale and he commenced his duties this morning. There was considerable interest in the village over the arrest of Ferguson, supposedly under such irregular circumstances. Ferguson was on the scene early. He entered the office and, police say, read a sermon which he intended to preach in the United Church Sunday. Then he went to the public school no one came to hear him. As school was about to assemble Monday morning, Mrs. Ferguson called down the road, stopped in front of the gate, paced up and down, but made no effort to enter the grounds.

Carson demanded protection, and was advised to dismiss school at noon. The trustees then decided to do so and a warrant was issued for Ferguson's arrest.

FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM YORK COUNTY JAIL

One Captured and Two Surrender. Twelve in Plot for Jail Delivery.

Four convicts escaped from the Don jail, Toronto, on Thursday night of last week, by sawing a bar in the top of a three-storey window and making a rope of bedclothes to aid in the descent.

Investigation showed that the cigarette escaped by knotting together eight blankets taken from the beds of those who slept in the cell. They make a rope strong and long enough to permit them to reach the ground in the courtyard. Then they cut the bedsheets remade, showing that they had inside help. A letter dropped by one of the escapees gave a clue to the police and he was captured at the home of a sweetheart the same night. Two others gave themselves up, but the original plot was laid for the escape of at least 12 prisoners. Several of the men had little chance of freedom spoiled by being moved to other cells before the break was made.

Three, only having short terms before them, refused to leave the jail at the appointed time and only four finally made the escape.

FOR THE PARTY

When the youths and misses in their 'teens gather for their festivities, their frocks will be found to reflect almost due for line the modes of the more sophisticated elements. The frock above is an illustration of the tiered skirt for the younger miss. It has an added feature in the group of shoulder tucks finishing the neck, which is beautshaped. These shoulder flounces are attached in a diagonal line across the front and back, terminating in fulness at the left side. The girdle ties and may be adjusted to give a suitable snug hip. In the new taffetas, a heavy crepe, a moiré or printed velvet, one has an effective party dress or afternoon frock.

THE MAN WITH THE SILVERY HAIR

Is there on the farm where you live a man with silvery hair and halting step. A man who has done his day's work and is just waiting for the call to come when he will step over the line and go out to be under mother earth ?

On many a farm there is a man of that kind. If this old man lives on the farm you live, are you good and kind to him ? Has he the warmest place by the fire when the days are cold ? Does he get waiting for the sunshine, do you help him get his chair around on the sunny side of the house where he can watch the world go on, while he is in the warmth, for his blood does not run as warm as it did in the days when he was the best working the farm when you was a child and now a man ? There was a time when this old man with the silvery hair took the lead of the farm.
It may be he cleared the land with his own hands as you now till; perhaps he built the house and barn and fences to make everything beautiful and now he has come almost to the end of the road. Are you trying to make his last days the best and most beautiful of all ? Or are you thinking this old man for someone else ?

Some times this is not so. It may be you with the silvery hair (your father) is the most slighted of all beings on the farm. Even the old horse or the dog have a better time on these farms than does the man who has finished his job and is waiting, just hair should know.

Speaking on Canada's stake in the Pacific before the Montreal Canadian Club recently, Hon. Newton W. Rowell, vice-chairman of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, took occasion to compliment Canadian Pacific Steamships on their work on that ocean. He said: "There are many lines of steamers plying from Pacific ports, but Canada's line is one of the best is still the Canadian Pacific Steamships; there is a regular freight and passenger service on the Pacific that to-day is equal to that of the Canadian Pacific Company. We owe a great deal to that institution in developing our trade."

AMAZING CONDITIONS
FOLLOWS OUSTING SALOON

Truths Chaplain Only Hopes Dry Laws Will be More Consistently Enforced.

Washington, D.C.—"Little Old New York" today offered the picture of the house judiciary committee's prohibition hearing and one who has seen much of the ne'er do wells who drift along with the rest of the millions testified it was his opinion that as America's first city grows bigger and bigger it also grows better.

The lights along the "Great White Way" may sparkle just as brightly as a decade ago, but in the opinion of John Callahan, the Chaplain at The Tombs prison, an amazing change has taken place. He told the committee it was a change for the better and he attributed it to prohibition.

Wants Law to Stay

"I hope to God the dry law will stay on the books and be more consistently enforced," were the words he left in the committee record to combat the previous testimony by the anti-prohibition group that since enactment of the Eighteenth amendment, crime has increased and conditions grown worse. Callahan referred to as the "Bishop of the Bowery", Mr. Callahan said the dry law had brought "great good" to the Bowery district where he said ten years ago there had been 11 saloons. "Now," he added, "conditions have changed." Twenty-five years as director of the Hadley Rescue mission has given the chaplain much opportunity for observation of those who do not walk on Fifth avenue in fashionable clothes and he said that he knew men who ten years ago had lived "without God and without hope" who now had houses, families, radios and automobiles. Again, he attributed this change to prohibition.

Says Wet Stand Best Smith

Callahan was the second witness of the day to testify that Fiorello Henry La Guardia, social worker, likewise had endorsed the Eighteenth amendment and made the assertion that Alfred E. Smith had been defeated as democratic presidential nominee because of his stand on prohibition.

When Smith signed a bill repealing the New York State prohibition enforcement act, Bobbs asserted, he became the "country's chief nullifier under the flag".

The third witness was John R. McIntyre superintendent of the Whosoever Gospel Mission of Germantown, Penn. He said the work of the mission showed a change for the better under prohibition, and that it was no longer necessary to pick up intoxicated men from the streets and try and build them into self-respecting citizens.

The committe also heard Ralph H. White of New Haven, research secretary of the fact finding committee on Law Enforcement in Connecticut who testified that students in high schools and colleges had reduced their drinking since prohibition.

Try Magnesia For Indigestion

People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried pepsin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and get little more than slight temporary relief—sometimes not even that.

But before trying up to date, scientific, harmless, the effect of a spoonful of Magnesia, or a tablet of Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder of tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference it makes. It will instantly neutralize the excess acidity which is in the stomach which now causes gas to form to ferment, and sour, making you feel flatulent, heartburn and the blocked or heavy, lumpy feeling that you put to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without fear of indigestion.
